Take a fresh look at your SDRS-SRP account

Have you checked on your SDRS-SRP account lately? It is good practice to review your account information on an annual basis or more frequently, if necessary. Assess your investment options and asset allocation to evaluate whether you are on track to reach your financial goals. If you need help along the way, your SDRS-SRP Retirement Specialists are just a phone call away and can work with you to:

- Revisit your long-term strategy
- Re-assess your level of risk
- Rebalance your portfolio
- Identify your projected assets at retirement
- Make sure your beneficiary designations are current
- Introduce you to the benefits of using the Online Planner on the SDRS-SRP website.

If your review identifies a potential gap between your income needs in retirement and your projected available assets, you may want to consider increasing contributions to your SDRS-SRP account.

Breathe easier

When you enroll in Paperless Delivery, you could save one tree for every 6 reams of paper the SDRS-SRP does not use to produce statements, transaction confirmations, newsletters and other routine communications. Think of what that could mean:

- A tree can absorb as much as 48 pounds of carbon dioxide per year
- On average, one tree produces 260 pounds of oxygen per year
- One large tree can release up to 100 gallons of water into the air each day
- One person consumes the equivalent of a 100 foot tree 18 inches in diameter per year
- Depending on the variety, a tree takes anywhere from 10 to 30 years to mature
